Young Professionals Leadership Workshop

Leadership Training for Young Professionals and Emerging Leaders

Friday, June 11, 2010

8:00 AM - 2:00 PM

Hunter College, 68th Street Main Campus

East 68th Street and Lexington Avenue (Map & Directions)
West Building, 7th Floor

The Young Professionals Committee of the UNIFEM-USNC Metro NY Chapter will be hosting leadership training for young professionals. This program will tap expert leaders in the non-profit and for-profit worlds who are committed to women's leadership and advancing gender equality to share their experience and skills with the next generation of non-profit managers and practitioners. The training will be a series of interactive workshops that focus on innovative strategies, best practices, and management skills in order to prepare participants to take on leadership roles and responsibilities within the non-profit sector.

Registration: Young Professionals Leadership Training (Space is limited)

Fee: $30 (includes lunch courtesy of Chipotle)

Participants in the training are also encouraged to register for the 2010 Annual Conference, Strategic Imperatives for Ending Violence Against Women: Linkages to Economic Security, Education, and Health, co-presented by the U.S. National Committee for UNIFEM and the National Council for Research on Women on June 11-12, 2010. The conference begins immediately following this training in the same location.

Registration: Young Professionals Leadership Training and Conference

Fee: $225 (Includes Young Professionals Leadership Workshop, Fri.& Sat. lunch, annual conference, and reception)
